thank you sir, for loving me as your son, and friend. I worked on your day..but I know you worked with me.

JAMES, SO SMALL NEXT TO YOU WHISENHUNT, MAY 4, 2014

Miguel, you started off every conversation with a smile and the words "my friend." You were always a beacon of joy, optimism and a lover of life and people. I had left the College for a few years and then came back. Things had changed so much and I was a bit disoriented until I saw you. You had a talent of making people feel comfortable I will miss you, my friend.

Miguel my friend, my mentor. So many stories you had to tell. So much history you were happy to share. Before you uttered a word in greeting your smile had already said hello. You gave me your time, and offered your wisdom for which I am eternally grateful. Paul E. Bellah Diane & Shaun
