September 15, 1947 - February 11, 2019

William Glenn Beaty was born September 15, 1947 at Waxahachie, Texas to William Edgar Beaty and Ethel Marie Jane Dimsdle Beaty. He married the love of his life, Carolyn Ann Knowles on October 5, 1968 in Lancaster, Texas. He passed away at his home on February 11, 2019 at 71 years of age.

To the man I call Daddy,

I always knew this day would come, the day that I would have to say goodbye, instead I want to say, I love you Daddy and I'll see you in a bit. I know you see the tears running down my face and I can hear you say clear as a bell, "Knock that shit off, I'm right here!" I know in my heart no matter what I ever did growing up, right or wrong, you would set me straight. The truth is Dad, watching you and Mom is what taught your boys how to love, how to give everything in your heart to the ones that mean the most to you. You taught us that when someone is in need you give all you can and do it without expecting anything in return, you just do it with a smile because it's the right thing to do. You gave us all a stubborn side, a side of us that when you know you're right, you don't back down. You showed us that even the strongest man we have ever known can cry, and it doesn't mean that you're weak, it just means that your love for something is that strong. Thank you Daddy for never letting us go without and for always doing your best to get us what we wanted. It's your fault we got a little spoiled. Thank you for letting me play hooky from school one day so that you could take me to go play golf for the first time in my life. I don't think Mama got mad at us. Thank you for taking us hunting and fishing, and you will be right there with us everytime we go now. Daddy we are gonna miss your story telling, you could always make us laugh. Stories about you and uncle Bill getting in fights together against other kids or bronc riding a donkey with uncle Roger. You could always get us laughing. I'm going to miss hearing you call us baby, because to you that's who we all are, your babies. I know you are in a better place now and you're not hurting anymore and for that I am so thankful. But I would love to get another one of those massively loving hugs right now cause I know this hurt is gonna last me a long time. Daddy I got almost 50 years of memories that I could sit and write about but I wish that I could have 50 more. So you just sit on the bank in heaven with a golden fishing pole and look down on us and we will do our best to give you some more. There will never be a man to me that deserves the title of "DADDY" more than you!!!

I LOVE YOU DADDY, YOU WILL ALWAYS BE MY SUPERMAN!!

Thank you for making me feel so welcomed to the family. You are by far one of the most loving men I've very met. I want to thank you for teaching Shane how to truly love and treat a woman. I will always be grateful to you for that. I will miss your love and your great hugs. I will promise to love your son with all my heart and take care of him. You, sir, will never be forgotten.
